Defendants.)

The parties, by and through their respective counsel, hereby stipulate to extend the dispositive motion deadline in this case to August 19, 2019. This is the second request for this extension since the official close of discovery, although two prior requests were included in more general extensions of scheduling order deadlines.

The extension is requested because Defendant, Ramzy Ladah, an attorney, was unavailable to give his deposition in the past several weeks because he had been preparing for an 8-10-week jury trial scheduled to start July 1. A settlement was reached on or about June 24, 2019, allowing for Mr. Ladah's deposition to proceed in July. Any dispositive motion could not be filed or responded to without the testimony of Mr. Ladah. Also, the parties have delayed the deposition of Ms. Lucia Sloan. Ms. Sloan is a former employee of Ladah Law Firm who is contemplating her own lawsuit against the firm. If she elects to proceed, then it may possible to have her deposition

1 testimony be common to both actions (as would also potentially be true of Mr. Ladah),
2 promoting judicial economy.
